

Jörg Hawlitzeck

Jörg Hawlitzeck, author, speaker and sparring partner for leaders, is an expert when it comes to the MINDSET required for business success. The trained humanities scholar is himself a passionate entrepreneur and has supported people and companies with their development for 15 years. His clients include both SMEs as well as international corporations. Jörg Hawlitzeck gathered his wealth of experience in the tourism, media and culture sectors. He became enthusiastic about people and their behaviour early on in his life. This made him realise that attitude is the decisive factor with regard to personal success. He walks the talk. In his talks, he thrills his audience with his clear, inspiring and humorous manner. His talks provide content with substance, insights from the field of research, practical experience and a refreshing dose of optimism. He inspires people to think outside the box, to push mental boundaries and bravely break new ground.

"The only revolution that is really effective is the one that takes place in you!"
