

Dr. Pero Mičić

“Awaken the future manager in you!”

Dr. Pero Mičić is a future manager. He makes the future comprehensible and useful. In 1991, he founded Germany's first future-management company, and is today one of Europe's leading experts. With his FutureManagementGroup AG, he has participated in hundreds of projects, advising managers of major corporate groups and leading SMEs on how to identify opportunities in future markets early on, utilise these, and develop smart future strategies. Dr Pero Mičić is the founding member of the “Association of Professional Futurists” in the USA, and was the chairperson of the advisory board for the European Futurists Conference. His pleasant, impressive presentation style has made Dr Pero Mičić an internationally sought-after speaker, having given over 1000 talks. He builds a bridge for your audiences to enter the world of future research, and then return to their daily life and work. That's how he strengthens the future manager in you.
