

Graduate psychologist Rolf Schmiel

“PSYCHOLOGY FOR MORE MOTIVATION & SUCCESS”

Prof. Rolf Schmiel is a graduate psychologist, author and speaker who also works as a psychological expert for TV and radio (including ARD, Pro7 & ZDF). As of autumn 2016, he will be a co-presenter for the TV psychology show „So tickt der Mensch“ on SAT. 1. His radio columns at BR3, Radio21 & WDR2 attract well over a million listeners every week and, as a speaker, he has won the overall victory at the „1st German Speaker Slam“ in 2015, along with the audience prize and the award given to speakers' agencies. He was also nominated for the „Speaker of the Year 2015“ media prize and the „Querdenker Award 2013“ for lateral thinkers. With his unique way of mixing psychology, motivation and fun in his speeches, he has been inspiring renowned SMEs as well as major corporations such as Audi, Coca-Cola, Daimler, Lufthansa, Shell, Würth, VW and Xerox, for many years.

Inspiration

› People, books and events that inspire me:

“One of my biggest sources of inspiration is my son Leonard. He was born in my annus horribilis: my father had died a few weeks before and my company was on the brink of bankruptcy. Thanks to my son, I got new wind in my sails and what I did became more meaningful. I wasn’t just able to save my company, but my work as an author and speaker also gathered speed. Thanks, Leonard!”
